VOL. IV, NO. 1

HAZELTON, B. C., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1914

PRICE $2.00 A YEAR

FOR THE PATRIOTIC FUND

Hazelton District Will Respond to Appeal of Governor-General—Subscription List Opens on Monday

In response to the appeal of the Duke of Connaught for a patriotic fund to be used in assisting those dependent on Canada's soldiers who have gone to the front, subscription lists have been opened in all parts of the Dominion, and Canadians of all classes are subscribing liberally. It is certain, however, that an enormous sum will be required if members of Canada's army are to be assured that those they leave behind them will not suffer privation. In order that the people of Hazelton and the district may have an opportunity to do their share in raising a patriotic fund, it has been arranged that the managers of the Union Bank and Royal Bank here will receive sums intended for the fund, and that all subscriptions will be acknowledged in The Miner. This list will be opened on Monday, and a liberal response is looked for. The Women's Auxiliary has already announced that all receipts this year will be devoted to the patriotic fund.

Through Railway Service

It is reported in Prince Rupert that the G. T. P. will run trains through to Edmonton and Winnipeg next week. The Hazelton agent has had no advice of the change.

Through freight rates on the G. T. P. went into effect on Sept. 1, meaning a reduction in Hazelton's freight bills.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Hewitt, who goes to Smithers today, the Methodist Church services tomorrow will be conducted by Dr. Wrinch.

PASSING OF "SEA WOLF"

Vancouver, Sept. 5:—Captain Alex. McLean, known in every Pacific port as the original of London's "Sea Wolf," was found dead in False Creek yesterday. He had evidently met with foul play. In the course of his adventurous career, he had been a mate on one of the Skeena river steamers.

Cardinals Choose New Pope

Rome, Sept. 3:—The new Pope is Cardinal Della Chiesa, who was archbishop of Bologna and secretary to the late Cardinal Rampolla. He is sixty years of age. He will assume the title of Benedict XV. The choice of Cardinal Chiesa was not made until to-day, although balloting has been in progress since Monday.

W. A.

The ladies of Hazelton will meet at the Mission House on Thursday, Sept. 10, at 3:15 p.m. This being the first meeting of the season, and the object the Patriotic Fund, it is hoped that every lady will do her best to be present.

The Junior W. A. will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, at Mission House.

The Miner is two dollars a year.

VAST INVADING ARMY DRAWS NEAR PARIS

GERMAN ADVANCE MADE AT APPALLING COST-- ALLIES' LINE UNBROKEN--RUSSIANS' BIG VICTORY

London, Sept. 5:—A midnight despatch from Paris says there is no change in the situation. The Germans are twenty-five miles from Paris, but have made no attempt on the position of the Allies. Both armies are taking up positions preparatory to another great battle. It is believed the Germans are planning a furious attack on the weakest Paris fort.

In the great engagement near Amiens nearly a million men were engaged. The British force withdrew to new positions, fighting all the way. At no time were their lines broken through. The river Oise is said to be choked with the dead and red with blood. The losses have not yet been made known.

Seven German destroyers and torpedo boats have arrived at Kiel in damaged condition and it is understood others have been sunk near the Kiel Canal. This is thought to indicate another raid by British warships, although some believe the report refers to a previous fight.

The Russian defeat of Austria's army at Lemberg was one of the most crushing in history. It has put out of action one-quarter of the Austrian first line troops, while Russia has possession of one-quarter of Austria's artillery and commands all roads between Galicia and Hungary. The Russian armies are still advancing in eastern Germany.

It is reported that 80,000 Russian troops have been brought in British transports from Archangel, Northern Russia, to Scotland, thence by train to Dover, and by steamer to Antwerp.

The sacking of Louvain, Belgium, by the Germans is described by well-informed writers as the crime of the century. Details grow in horror.

Premier Asquith, in addressing a notable gathering in Guildhall yesterday impressed upon the people of the Empire the urgency of the situation and the necessity of obtaining recruits. He announced that up to the present 300,000 had responded to Lord Kitchener's call. The Empire had entered with clear judgment and clear conscience, he said, into the bloody arbitrament of might versus right.

Ottawa, Sept. 5:—It is announced that the Canadian government has approved the payment of a monthly allowance of $20 to the families of married Canadians going to the front.

Forty thousand Canadians are under arms, 32,000 being at Valcartier. Two hundred thousand are anxious to serve.

THE MINER'S WAR BULLETINS

London, Aug. 30:—The admiralty announces that the British casualties in the naval battle off Heligoland were two officers and twenty-seven men killed and nineteen seriously wounded. Eleven German vessels of all sizes were destroyed in the action. Three of these were cruisers. The enemy's loss in killed and drowned is unknown. Over two hundred Germans were rescued, many dying of their wounds enroute to the English hospitals. Ninety prisoners, from one sunken cruiser alone, are now in England, eight being officers. One is the son of Admiral Tiplitz, the German naval minister.

Apia, the principal German port in Samoa, has surrendered to the British warships.

The British losses in France have already been replaced, and General French is confident of final success, believing that one decisive victory for the Allies will prove fatal to the Germans.

The British Army has not been engaged to any great extent since Wednesday.

While the Germans are reported to be within seventy miles of Paris, it is reported that they have sent 160 trainloads of soldiers east from the Franco-German frontier, presumably to guard Berlin or meet the victorious Russian army, which occupies Königsberg. The Russians are also advancing in central and southern Prussia and Galicia.

An Austrian despatch to Rome says a million men have been fighting for the last three days on the Russo-Austrian frontier, from the Vistula to the Dneister. Russians have penetrated twenty miles into Austria.

A German aeroplane, flying at a height of six thousand feet, dropped a bomb into Paris this morning, just missing the military hospital and doing no damage.

Washington, Aug. 30:—The German embassy declares that Turkey is preparing to make war against Britain and Russia. Berlin says the British were defeated at San Quentin, their retreat being barred by German cavalry.

Paris, Aug. 30:—In anticipation of a siege, the governor has ordered residents within the zone of active fortifications to destroy their houses within four days. The order is received without complaint. Great piles of provisions have been placed in warehouses, and many cattle are pasturing in the Bois Boulogne. Ten thousand sheep have been placed in the parks.

Vancouver, Aug. 30:—There are persistent rumors that the Rainbow and Montcalm have captured the Leipzig, of Cape Flattery, and are towing it to Esquimalt. One paper says 120 were killed. Victoria tonight denies the report.

London, Aug. 31:—No sea battles or important land engagements were reported today. Paris continues preparations for siege. Thousands of civilians are leaving the city. The Germans are reported to be within sixty miles of the French capital, having reached Le Fere. The removal of the French capital to Bordeaux is being considered.

Italy is said to be preparing to invade Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is also stated that if Turkey, as threatened, declares war against Greece, Italy will declare war on Turkey.

Germans are making great efforts to crush the British force in France. Seventy thousand British for three days held in check two hundred thousand Germans. The position of the troops is not stated.

A big battle is expected on Wednesday, the anniversary of the battle of Sedan. Additional French forces totalling 600,000 will be ready for service in six weeks.

A great storm is raging on the coast of Japan, below Tokio. The Japanese have begun the bombardment of the Kiau Chau forts.

Many tributes have been paid throughout the world to the bravery and daring of the British in the Heligoland and Mons engagements. Lord Kitchener says the British land force is in excellent condition for the next battle.

Vancouver, Aug. 31:—Valcartier reports an unsuccessful attempt to wreck a troop train ninety miles east of Montreal. An iron rail had been placed across the track.

The Leipzig story is still denied. A German merchant steamer arriving at San Francisco reports having been chased by the German cruiser.

London, Sept. 1:—No official statements have been made today in London, Paris or Berlin. The censors have drawn a veil of secrecy similar to that noticeable during the fighting at Mons, Cambrai and Lacateau, therefore it is believed a great battle is being fought, probably in the vicinity of La Fere, sixty miles from Paris. A despatch from Nieppe says a battle is raging a Croisilles, fifteen miles from Cambrai.

Prince Von Buelow has been wounded in battle. The German general Haesen is dead.

An unconfirmed report from Berlin says the Germans defeated 120,000 Russians at Allenstein and took 70,000 prisoners.

Bucharest reports that the Austrian army, attempting to cross the Vistula into Russia, were defeated by the Russians, with a loss of 20,000.

Emperor William is reported to have left the western army, to rally the eastern forces against the Russians.

In retaliation for the burning of the Belgian city of Louvain, it is said, the Russians intend to destroy a great German city, probably Berlin. Thousands of citizens of the German capital are leaving for neutral countries. In Louvain, the Germans murdered hundreds, including the mayor and other officials, before firing the city.

Antwerp reports that two German cavalry divisions of 12,000 were destroyed in Belgium. The French forces under General Pau are believed to have won a great victory near Peronne, east of Amiens.

The Queen of Belgium and her children are now in London.

The Prince of Wales' relief fund now amounts to over ten millions.

Turkey has mobilized its army, with 200,000 in the first line.

An Austrian army, supported by the fleet, attacked the Montenegrin position. British and French warships scattered the fleet, and the Montenegrins won the engagement.

London, Sept. 3:—The Times states that although the Allies have again been forced to withdraw by overwhelming numbers of Germans, the line of defence is still intact, and the Germans are unable to break through, while the French and British armies are gaining in strength all the time.

The French government offices were removed this morning from Paris to Bordeaux. The German forces are now within fifty miles of the outer forts defending Paris on the east, and preparations for a siege continue. The city is surrounded by eighteen forts.

The left wing of the allied armies has altered its position, the right and center remaining unchanged. No general engagement in France yesterday.

German aeroplanes have dropped more bombs into Paris and Antwerp, without doing serious damage to either city.

After a desperate fight at Lemberg, in Austria, the Russians overcame the stubborn resistance of the Austrians and took the city. The Russians admit a serious reverse to two army corps, with the loss of three generals. The place is not stated. They claim success in the advance of their other three armies, the north, center and southern, in Prussia. The objective of the latter is Königsbutte, from whence it is intended to march to Berlin, via Breslau.

The Russians routed the Austrians near Lustchoff on August 28, taking one hundred officers and four thousand men prisoner and capturing twenty guns.

Berlin is said to be guarded by several army corps.

A Paris despatch says a German cavalry corps marching towards the forest of Compiègne, in Oise, on the left wing of the Allies, engaged the British on Tuesday. The British captured ten guns. Losses are not given. Twenty miles southeast of Compiègne, a German force was defeated by the Allies. Reports say bodies were piled yards high, an entire German division being annihilated by French artillery.

BACK FROM OMINECA RIVER

Mining Man Has High Opinion of Big Placer District—More Ground to Be Developed Next Year

R. D. Fetherstonhaugh, the well-known mining man, who represents the Omineca Exploration Syndicate of Edmonton, returned on Tuesday from an exploration trip through the Omineca mining district. He has taken up some very promising properties on the Omineca and Peace rivers for the syndicate, and says active development will be carried on next year. Mr. Fetherstonhaugh went down the Manson river as far as the Finlay, taking the packhorses through with him, and reports no difficulties in the way of making a good trail all the way. Such a trail would be of great service to prospectors and homesteaders. There was a great number of prospecting parties through the district this year, and things begin to look like "something doing" in the near future. Quite a number have taken up homesteads along the Finlay this year and are busy building cabins and preparing to improve their holdings. Nearly all the mining going on at present is in the nature of development work, and large returns cannot be looked for this season. Mr. Fetherstonhaugh has promised to send us a detailed account of his trip and the properties taken up after he has reported to his principals. He is very enthusiastic over the prospects of the Omineca district as soon as transportation facilities are improved, but thinks the government should pay more attention to the Manson trail, which is deteriorating, he says, no serious work having been done on it for the last two years.

LOCAL NEWS PARAGRAPHS

H. A. Beck, secretary of the Bulkley Valley fair, was here on Monday, securing a good addition to the prize fund and assurances of support from all Hazelton people.

C. E. Mitchell, a big game hunter from New York, left on Sunday, accompanied by Frank Watson and Indians, for a trip to the upper Skeena game country.

The postal authorities announce that money order business between Canada and Great Britain has been resumed, but no person is allowed to purchase orders exceeding $100 in one day.

Several fair bags of grouse were obtained this week by Hazelton hunters. Local sportsmen are agreed that the season for grouse should not open until Sept. 15, the young birds being not yet full grown.

In addition to the five men who went direct from Hazelton, others well-known here have joined the Canadian war forces in Vancouver. C. B. North and "Rush" Reber, of the hockey team, are among the number, with Jack Aldous, of the Smithers team.

VOL. IV. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1914. No. 1

Canada is sending thousands of her best men to take their place in the battle line of the British Empire. Every Canadian is confident that our troops will display those qualities of pluck and endurance which have distinguished the British soldiers in the conflict with Germany, even as the same qualities have in the past brought victory to the Empire's forces in many a hard-fought campaign. It is not enough, however, that we who remain securely at home should feel confidence in those who have undertaken to fight our battles. We must remember that many of Canada's soldiers are leaving behind them families who must be provided for, and every Canadian must heed the appeal of the Duke of Connaught, as governor-general, for subscriptions to the Canadian patriotic fund. This fund, which is rapidly growing, will be used to make provision for those whose breadwinners have gone to the front, and every dollar that can be raised will be needed for the purpose. We urge our readers to do their part by sending in their subscriptions to the Hazelton fund, particulars of which are given in our news columns.

AN AMERICAN VIEW

Emperor William, the government of the German Empire, neglects no opportunity to prejudice his cause before the impartial jury of the world.

He has indorsed the indefensible action of Austria against Serbia. He has declared war on Russia in order, if possible, to prevent it from assisting the Servians. He has bullied and invaded France before the French had taken a step toward war. In wanton disregard of the treaty that binds Germany to respect and safeguard the neutrality of Belgium, he has violated the neutrality of Belgium, Holland and Luxemburg and endeavored to coerce Belgium into actively assisting Germany against France. He has tried to cajole England into disregard of her duties as the declared friend of France.

In England he meets with his match. The British know their duties toward Belgium, France and themselves and dare maintain their rights. They have been slow to move. They have not allowed themselves to be swept off their feet. They have not committed a single act of aggression or provocation. But they stand under solemn treaty obligation to protect the neutrality of Belgium, and under some sort of obligation to defend France if assailed. They stand by their word. They tell the Teutonic war lord to his face that he must respect the neutrality of Belgium or take the consequences.

England could not honorably or sagaciously do else than what she has done. To have left helpless Belgium to its fate would have been cowardice, folly and shame. The Teutonic menace to the peace of Europe has to be met and must be confronted by some power. German professions of good faith and sincerity can not be trusted. In the providence of God it has fallen to England to withstand William of Germany as she a century ago withstood and overthrew Napoleon the Great.—The Spokesman Review.

Gold is the standard of all wealth and the measure of its exchange. The man or woman who would belittle the integrity or make light of the worthiness or the desirability of an honest gold mining investment offer, honestly made by honest men, laughs to scorn the very foundation of wealth.—Ex.

Rocher de Boule to Continue

Notwithstanding the fact that smelters are closing down and copper mines suspending operations or curtailing their production, the blight of terrible war will not fall as heavily on our immediate district as we had feared.

The management of the Rocher de Boule mine have announced that they will continue their operations with full speed ahead, and market their product as soon as they are in a position to do so.

The big crosscut tunnel should penetrate the ore body within a couple of weeks, and the aerial tramway is nearing completion and will soon be in working condition. It is assured that long before the snow flies each day will see a hundred or more tons of ore from this mine on its way to the smelters, which have already signified their desire to handle its output.

The crosscut on the Great Ohio is encountering conditions which indicate close proximity to the big vein, and it seems but a matter of days until this mine will be turning out ore.

The Red Rose, which is regarded as the most promising undeveloped property in the district, has been attracting much attention during the past month, and several parties have been endeavoring to make terms with its fortunate owners.

Fresh discoveries of a most promising character have been recently made in a hitherto unprospected part of the district, and taking it all along the line from a straight mining view-point, our local conditions are more favorable at this time than have been hoped for by the most sanguine.

The horrors of a terrible war touch us all most deeply, but we derive some little consolation from the fact that we are not droned, and that in forcing wealth from Nature's strongbox we are helping in some measure to strengthen and enrich the country in which we abide.—The Chalcopryite.

The Miner is two dollars a year.

TO HELP MINING INDUSTRY

Victoria, Sept. 2:—Strenuous efforts are being made by the mining interests of British Columbia, particularly those in the Kootenay and Slocan districts, to devise ways and means to meet the new situation as a result of the war, and insure that the producing properties of the country shall not be forced to close down. To this end several conferences have been held in the last couple of days between Sir Richard McBride and Lorne A. Campbell, M. P., of Rossland, representing the mining interests of the interior.

In an interview, Mr. Campbell explained the position of the silver-lead industry. Prior to the outbreak of the war, the mines were in good condition and there were few clouds on the horizon. With the war and the immediate collapse of order in the financial markets throughout the world, came the disruption of the metal markets, making it impossible to get quotations or ascertain metal values. This situation only revealed an opportunity, as a result of the war, and it is this new situation which is now being surveyed.

Just prior to the outbreak of the war, Great Britain secured all the available lead supplies open to purchase. It is assumed that she is still in the market for all the lead she can get. The silver-lead mines of British Columbia produce comparatively very little silver, but they do produce a considerable quantity of lead, which can be refined in the province. It is this phase of the matter to which Mr. Campbell is now engaged in directing the attention of both the federal and provincial governments. His idea is, roughly, that the federal government should purchase what silver is produced in British Columbia and make whatever arrangements may be necessary to insure that the mines shall not be shut down, to the end that the lead which Great Britain requires shall be supplied in quantity by the mines of this province. The question is one which involves many considerations, but Mr. Campbell has received such assurances for Sir Richard McBride as to lead him to be hopeful that the problem will be solved satisfactorily.

Apropos of the suggestion advanced in some quarters that in view of the situation this winter it might be desirable for some of the larger employers of labor to work their staffs only half time, Mr. Campbell said he was opposed to the idea. He thought that the better way to meet the problem of threatened unemployment would be to keep the staff employed full time, at reduced pay, if emergency measures of this kind are forced on employers.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Three carloads of supplies arrived on Thursday—one of coal oil and gasoline, one of flour and cereals, and one of assorted groceries for the fall trade.

The carload of flour is Ogilvie's Royal Household, and is the first carload to come direct from the mills at Medicine Hat to Hazelton. We were fortunate enough to contract for it at before-the-war prices and landed it here under the most favorable competitive freight rate. It is our intention to give our customers full benefit of these conditions and not to make capital out of the "Influence on Trade" of the deplorable and distressing War.

Dr. Thompson, M. P. for the Yukon, states that the gold production of the Yukon this season will be higher than that of last year.

An Important Discovery

(From The Chalcophyllite)

Geo. T. Fryer, an old time prospector and mining man, recently of Los Angeles, California, but now of Skeena Crossing, has certainly made good during the month he has spent in this district. Two weeks ago he went into the nearby hills with a couple of Indian packers, and after being out four or five days returned to the Crossing with twenty-five or thirty pounds of as fine-looking copper ore as we have seen in the district.

This ore came from a vein which Mr. Fryer discovered about ten miles distant from the Crossing, in a hitherto unprospected section which had been previously ignored because it was considered to be outside the established limits of the mineral zone.

The vein, which, like the Rocher de Boule, is a fissure in granite, is from four to six feet wide, and outcrops for a distance of two thousand feet. The ore is identical in character with that of the Rocher de Boule vein, and Mr. Fryer declares that from a surface standpoint it is the best looking thing he has seen in the district. He found other showings, somewhat different in character, in the same locality, and has made several locations.

That he has much confidence in this district is demonstrated by the fact that he has entered into an agreement with the owners of the well-known Panama group, whereby he is to do a certain amount of development work for an interest therein.

The Panama group is adjoined on the north by the Red Rose group, which is now being negotiated by English capitalists.

Mr. Fryer has already begun operations and has several men on the ground, building a cabin and doing other preliminary work.

Captain Bertram Denison, of Toronto, serving with the Yorkshire infantry in Belgium, was the first Canadian to be killed in the war.

A Shanghai report says fifty transports are loading a hundred thousand Japanese troops at Nagasaki, for service in France.

Berlin newspapers publish reports that Canada and Australia are on the verge of revolt.

Vancouver, Sept. 2:—Ottawa states the total number of men Canada can send for foreign service is 100,000.

New York reports that Turkey has declared war on Russia. No news has been received from Constantinople for three days. Turkey's declaration of war against Greece is expected within a day or two.

London, Sept. 4.—A crisis in the conflict between the Allies and the Germans in France appears to be imminent, the invaders having evidently thrown the full weight of their armies into the French campaign, with the purpose of smashing their way through to Paris.

The Germans are nearing the French capital, but have difficulty in keeping their lines of communication open across France and Belgium. The Allies evidently intend to cut them off from Germany. The success of the vast Russian armies in Prussia and Austria make it imperative for Germany to reinforce her army at home.

A Paris despatch says thousands of Germans were trapped yesterday in Compiègne and cut to pieces by the French, who refused an armistice. The same authority reports an important battle at Bapaume Thursday and Friday. In a dense fog a British force unexpectedly arrived and occupied the French position, allowing weary French troops to retire, and then, though hard pressed, fighting a magnificent rear-guard action against a greatly superior number of Germans with many machine guns.

An optimistic despatch from the front says the Germans are exhausted after the recent terrific struggle, the superiority of the British artillery and the pluck of the British infantry telling greatly on the invaders.

An official statement issued last night gives the number of British killed in the latest engagements as 18 officers and 62 of other ranks, 78 officers and 312 of other ranks being wounded, with 86 officers and 4,670 men missing. The list of missing includes unwounded prisoners, stragglers and others unaccounted for.

The thirtieth list of German losses was published in Berlin last night, and is said to be appalling. The Mecklenburg troops alone lost over 20,000. Berlin is draped in black and half the citizens are in mourning.

In the retirement from Belgium the Ninth Lancers covered themselves with glory. A battery of eleven guns was mowing down the British, when the Lancers turned and charged in the open to the guns, killing all the gunners and putting the guns out of action. It was a second "Charge of the Light Brigade." The Lancers suffered terrible loss.

After one of the great battles of history, 800,000 Russians defeated 600,000 Austrians and took Lemberg. The defeat was decisive, the Austrians losing 43,000 killed, wounded and prisoners, with 150 guns.

Spain is said to be ready to help France.

Turkey has taken no action and will probably remain neutral.
